—Constitution Party Ticket Named— Mrs. Kenny Picked As Veep Candidate 51-Year-Old Lincoln Housewife Gets Second Spot On Slate With California State Senator Tenney General MacArthur Wouldn't Accept

Mrs. Mary Kenny, Lincoln housewife, Thursday was named as vice presidential candidate of the Constitution Party.

The 51-year-old woman who headed the Gen. MacArthur for President in the state and is national co-chairman of the Fighters for MacArthur, was selected at the group's convention in Denver.

Jack B. Tenney, Republican state senator from California, was designated as the party's presidential candidate.

Rev. Kenneth Goff, head of the Colorado branch of the party, formed in Chicago a few weeks ago, told the Associated Press that the party will immediately start circulation of petitions for the national candidates.

Goff disclosed that efforts had been made late Thursday to interest Gen. Douglas MacArthur to run, but the general declined.

The Denver meeting was attended by members of the Colorado, Kansas, Iowa and Nebraska state branches of the party. Their decisions will be concurred in by all other state branches, Goff said.

Plans for aggressively campaigning in other states for congressional candidates on other party slates was announced by Goff. He said:

"We are going to support the candidacy of other 'good men' in other states.

"Gen. Eisenhower's speech last night in Boise, Idaho, was weaker than that of Gov. Dewey's. He will lead his party to certain defeat."

Tenney was recently defeated for the GOP congressional nomination in California.

Goff is the head of the Colorado Anti-Communist League. The organization, he said, is one vigorously opposed to Communist activity in the United States.

Stand-In Candidate
Mrs. Kenny was a stand-in candidate for Gen. MacArthur in the 1952 Republican presidential primary. She received 10,282 votes out of a total of 366,954.

She has been active in politics and civic affairs since 1932. She was an unsuccessful candidate for lieutenant governor in 1946 and more recently for the City Council.

She also ran for Republican National Convention delegate from the First Congressional District.

Women's Groups
She helped organize and was secretary of the Grass Roots Republican Club, a member club of the National Federation of Republican Women's Clubs. She has served as treasurer of the Lincoln Republican Women's Club.

Mrs. Kenny founded the Women of America organization in 1942, of which there are some 500 members.

Born in Lincoln, she attended Lincoln High School and Goddard Seminary, Barre, Vt. Mrs. Kenny, of 1746 Harwood, taught school for a number of years.

Quintuplet Dies; 4 Sisters 'Good'

SAO PAULO, Brazil (AP)—Maria Angela Albano, one of the girl quintuplets born Tuesday night to a 38-year-old Negro laborer's wife, died in the Sao Paulo Maternity Hospital Thursday.

Her four sisters were reported in good condition.

Well, He Got A Drink
A somewhat inebriated man approached another man near 9th and O streets Thursday, and asked "Shay buddy, how's about buying me a drink?"

"Sure," the other man replied, "hop into my car and we'll find a place."

There was no report as to how the inebriated man liked the free water at the County Jail, where his chosen "drinking companion," Sheriff Merle Karnopp, had taken him.

Malicious Breakeage Of Lincoln's Park Property Is Growing Worse, Suiker Says

By JOE VOSOB
Star Staff Writer

Malicious breakeage of picnic benches and other property in the city's parks is getting worse as the summer progresses, Park Supt. Glenn Suiker said.

"Easily $500 damage has been done already," to light bulbs, wooden table-and-benches, windows, and toilets, Suiker estimated.

Every morning workers have to replace light bulbs in shelter houses in Antelope, Van Dorn, Irvingdale and Roberts Parks. Suiker said he thinks children may be breaking them, or youths who want to drink or park in the dark.

Beside breaking bulbs, someone had broken into the time clock (which turns on shelter-house lights) and set it back so the lights would not go on.

The city has about 500 table-

Sutton Doctor Is Iron Lung Patient; Condition Serious

A 29-year-old Sutton, Neb., physician, Dr. L. D. Meese, was still in an iron lung Thursday night but somewhat improved after being brought to Lincoln in an ambulance early Thursday morning.

His doctor said his condition was still serious with some paralysis. Dr. Meese became ill Tuesday and was brought to Lincoln when respiratory involvements required he be put in an iron lung.

His wife, Ruth, said that the doctor made the 70-mile trip just in time to keep him from losing consciousness from lack of oxygen.

The physician told hospital attendants that he has never treated a polio case during his three years of practice in Sutton.

Mullally Resignation Accepted

Action Follows Probe
Of 'Outside Activities'

WASHINGTON (INS)—Attorney General McGranery Thursday accepted the resignation of James A. Mullally, Justice Department lawyer suspended Wednesday in a probe of his "outside activities."

The attorney general made no comment on the resignation. Mullally is a long-time member of the department's criminal division and recently was assigned to the unit aiding nationwide grand jury investigations of racketeering.

McGranery ordered an FBI inquiry into Mullally's activities early this week. The 52-year-old attorney also has been under scrutiny by the House subcommittee investigating the justice department.

Subcommittee Chairman Chelf (D-Ky.), questioned Mullally after the resignation was announced and later said he believed the lawyer's conduct had been "unethical and improper, but not illegal."

Chelf told newsmen that he and subcommittee aides also questioned another Washington lawyer, whom he declined to identify, but who, he said, was "closely tied in" with the Mullally case.

The congressman refused to explain the activities which led to Mullally's suspension but indicated that they will be revealed in public committee hearings next week.

Chelf confirmed reports that another Justice Department official is under investigation by the subcommittee. He said the man is in a "very responsible position" but declined to identify him.

Brother And Sister
Are Injured Here
In Bike-Car Mishap

A Lincoln brother and sister are in good condition—one at St. Elizabeth Hospital—after a bicycle on which they were riding double collided with a car as the pair came out of an alley onto 23rd street.

They are Patricia Ann and Larry Wifoff, of 1129 No. 23rd. Patricia Ann, 14, received a fractured collar bone and was hospitalized. Larry, 3, received multiple bruises on the face and left arm and was released after treatment.

Motorcycle Officer John Kvech said that the children's vision was obscured by a truck parked near the alley. The same truck also obscured the vision of Gilbert G. Egle, 27, of 806 No. 25th, driver of the car, Kvech said.

Quake Aids Water Flow

FONTANA, Calif. (INS)—The city of Fontana has the best water supply it has had in ten years, thanks to the July 21 earthquake.

City officials estimated that the earthquake jarred underground springs and that the city's water supply has increased 630 gallons a minute since the quake.

YOUTH GETS EIGHT YEARS IN RAPE CASE

Darrell Alan Block, 19, Route 1, was sentenced to eight years in the Penitentiary after pleading guilty before District Judge John L. Polk to the rape of a young Lincoln woman.

Block admitted raping the woman after he had entered her home and taken 90 cents from her pocketbook. In a signed statement, he admitted that he had seen her asleep and forced her to submit while threatening her with a paring knife taken from the kitchen. She was three months pregnant. The incident occurred July 20.

As Block was leaving the house where he admitted raping the woman, he met the woman's husband, who chased him for some distance, but lost him.

Block was picked up by Lincoln police early Wednesday and questioned in connection with several recent south Lincoln burglaries.

When arrested, Block had in his possession a pocket flash light, a black scarf for his face, wire, a knife, a screw driver and several skeleton keys, according to police.

Not Saucers, Just Searchlights

The "flying saucer" mystery haunting many Lincoln residents for the past three nights has been solved.

Searchlights, being used at the Cass County Fair at Weeping Water, are believed the basis for "lights appearing over Lincoln."

The beacons were first used Tuesday night at Weeping Water, located 27 miles east and four miles north of Lincoln. This was the first night calls began coming to The Star inquiring about the "strange lights."

The calls to The Star's newsdesk came from widely separated parts of Lincoln—Havelock, University Place, College View and the center of town—and even from Raymond, Neb. After checking with police, firemen, the county sheriff and other possible sources, a call to Weeping Water revealed that the searchlights were being used there and were probably the source of the mystery.

Lincoln Tax Collections To Date At Record High Of $1,637,807

As to be expected with a boost in valuations and an increased mill levy, city tax collections to date have set an all time high of $1,637,807.

The figure represents 96.18 per cent of the total levy for the 1951-52 fiscal year. Last year at this time, the total was $1,239,549 but was 96.50 per cent of the levy.

Collected this year to date in back taxes was $45,580.34. Last year, the back tax collections at this time were $50,746.23.

City Finance Director Theo Berg reported the taxes collected this year in excess of 90 per cent of the levy would just about equal the $257,000 balance estimated and appropriated for the general fund for the coming year.

The city makes its appropriation for expenditures on the basis of 90 per cent of the total tax levy, thereby having a sufficient operating cushion and assuring itself of staying within the money collected. Everything collected in excess of the 90 per cent is carried over as a balance for the next year.

The balance thus obtained is used to run the city through September and October, until money starts coming in on the new year's assessments.

The city's general fund balance at the end of July was reported at $453,878.08. A total balance of all funds held by the city was reported at $2,664,484.12.

Besides the general fund, the balance is made up of $303,895.83 in other partially or wholly tax-supported funds such as library, storm sewers, tree spraying, etc.; $826,857.92 in self-sustaining funds such as water and light, muni coal and gas and hospital; $392,012.75 in definite purpose funds such as gas tax, trusts, auditorium, airport, etc.; $687,839.54 in special assessment districts.

In his monthly report, City Treasurer Frank J. Miller showed July credits of $48,639.66 and debits of $641,751.73. He also reported securities held in the amount of $1,607,382.83.

Today's Chuckle

"My boy," said the successful man lecturing his son on the importance of thrift, "when I was your age I carried water for a gang of bricklayers."

"I'm proud of you, father," answered the boy, "if it hadn't been for your pluck and perseverance, I might have had to do something of that sort myself."

Little Tax Statements Represent Lots Of Hard Work

The personal rolls are then sent back to the county for checking. With the rolls checked, the figures are typed onto the statements for mailing.

All statements are addressed with an addressograph. They are placed in envelopes or stuffed by hand, all 82,000 of them.

To complete this process requires the hiring of 14 additional personnel. Miller and City Assessor Robert Wheeler are constantly checking and rechecking to insure complete accuracy in the final statements.

And no sooner are the statements sent out than they start coming in—the beginning of another laborious task. Real estate receipts are recorded mainly by machine through another receipt page, punched card and permanent ledger file procedure.

Personal tax payments, however, are recorded mainly by hand. They are taken from a master sheet prepared from the original receipt and copied by hand into the permanent record books.

"It is a lot of work and requires real accuracy," said Miller, "but it is a system and arrangement of the city should be proud of."

Plane Crash Lands At G.I.; None Injured

GRAND ISLAND, Neb. (AP)—A DC-3 cargo plane belonging to the Flying Tigers Line crash landed in a cornfield near here late Thursday.

Neither the pilot, Dick Clark, nor the co-pilot, Clayton Burke, were injured. Both are from Denver. The bottom of the plane and both engines were damaged.

Airport sources here indicated the plane had just taken off and was returning to make a simulated one-engine landing when the operating engine cut out.

Clark set the plane down in a field on the Bob Peterson farm about 1½ miles northeast of Grand Island just clearing a row of houses.

The pilots declined comment about the accident.

Grand Island is a regular stop for the Flying Tiger planes.

Streams Fall After Floods In Southeast

One Tecumseh Family
Evacuates; Rains Heavy

Swollen streams in southeast Nebraska were receding late Thursday after forcing at least one family from its home at Tecumseh.

The flooding came after heavy downpours early Thursday and Wednesday night, ranging up to 4.8 inches at Tecumseh and 4.30 at Stella. The total rainfall at Tecumseh for the last week measures slightly more than 10 inches.

The Lee McCoy family in Tecumseh left its home as a precautionary measure. However, water never entered the home.

Other points reporting heavy rains include: Sterling, 3.40 inches; Humboldt, 2.06; Friend, 1.20; Auburn, 2.28, and Nebraska City, 1.17.

Town Branch Creek at Tecumseh, which runs through the east part of the town, began receding early Thursday after rising to an alarming height earlier.

The Nemaha River, which rose to about six feet from its banks Thursday night, was dropping Thursday, according to Mrs. John Mahar.

The waters of Muddy Creek, overflowing in low lands north and east of Falls City, slowed traffic on Highway 4 and motorists drove through water up to the knees. From Falls City to Preston, the road was closed.

The Nemaha crested at 23 feet Thursday afternoon, spilling out into bottom lands.

Rogers Says Diphtheria 'Unnecessary'
As Two Additional Cases Are Reported

"All cases of diphtheria are totally unnecessary," emphasized Dr. E. A. Rogers, acting director of the State Health Department, Thursday after two additional cases of diphtheria in the state were reported to his office.

Dr. Rogers has long advocated immunization against the disease at an early age, followed by booster shots later and again at the time of feared epidemics.

Diphtheria shots are being given in the Arnold vicinity where the disease first seemed to have its outbreak this summer, but before trouble starts—not after it has begun—is the time for immunization, he declared.

'Epidemic' Discredited

Dr. Rogers said the new clinical cases had been reported from South Sioux City and Coleridge, Neb., but laboratory tests of any cultures from there have not yet been made.

What was earlier termed an "epidemic" of diphtheria in and around Arnold was discredited as such after state bacteriology experts returned from a trip to that area with throat cultures and discovered that only two of the

General Meets With Midwest Leaders For Campaign Plans

KANSAS CITY, Kas. (INS)—Gen. Eisenhower said Thursday he believes the United States had no alternative but to send troops into Korea to halt Communist aggression.

The Republican presidential nominee thus indicated publicly for the first time that he approved, though reluctantly, of the decision by President Truman which was bitterly attacked by GOP leaders in Congress.

Eisenhower lashed out at the "terrible blunders" of the administration which led up to the Korean War.

But he said that in view of the overriding necessity to draw the line against Communist aggression when the north Koreans launched their attack the U. S. had no choice but to go to the aid of south Korea.

Eisenhower declared: "I don't see how we could have stayed out of it."

Eisenhower also said he has no intention of changing the present farm price support law if he is elected president.

A recent act of Congress provides that the support level for farm prices must be at least 90 per cent of parity for the next two years. The basic price support law, passed in 1949, provides for a sliding scale of from 75 to 90 per cent of parity.

Eisenhower referred specifically to the present 90 per cent floor, and declared:

"There will be no tampering with that law."

The general's statement was made at a question-and-answer session with some 140 leaders from seven midwest states gathered in Kansas City, Kas., to discuss campaign plans and farm-belt problems with the GOP candidate.

Peterson Mentioned

The text of the question and answer exchange included:

Q. I would like to ask you are you committed to a sound and reasonable program for conservation of our natural resources and particularly soil and water which is so important to the Midwest states.

A. I most certainly am, and I might add that one of the instructors I had on this was Gov. Val Peterson, who came over to Europe some months ago, long before I was in such a place, and began to give me instructions on that.

Eisenhower declared he believes "terrible blunders" in the administration's foreign policy helped set the stage for the Communist move into South Korea.

Eisenhower also struck out at President Truman for his attacks on Congress, though he did not mention the President by name.

He said one of the "great tragedies" today in Washington is the lack of co-operation between the executive and the legislative branches of the government.

With obvious reference to President Truman, he added:

"It is indefensible for any member of the executive department to go up and down the land to criticize the Congress which represents the people of the United States."

Asked how he feels about controls on the nation's economy, Ike declared he is certain of one fact—that "the thing has been badly bungled in the past" by the administration.

$7,800 To Match
Donation Of 'Mr. X'

The Cedars Home for Children needs $7,800 more in cash donations to match the $25,000 deposited in a local bank by "Mr. X," an anonymous donor to the Cedars building fund.

According to stipulations laid down by "Mr. X," Lincolnites must match a sum equal to his before his $25,000 is given to the home.

Joseph Carlotta, co-chairman of the building fund campaign, told members of the Sertoma Club and the Cedars solicitors that $35,061 has been collected in cash and pledges to Thursday.

Harvester Workers Walk Out

Strike Comes Amid Investigation Charges

CHICAGO (AP)—Production in eight plants of International Harvester Company was virtually at a standstill Thursday after some 23,000 members of an independent union struck in support of contract demands.

Some 23,000 members of the farm equipment division of the United Electrical Workers walked out at midnight Wednesday at Harvester plants in Illinois, Indiana and Kentucky, amid bitter charges involving a congressional investigation of the union.

Rep. Harold Velde (D-Ill.) immediately charged in a statement that the strike actually was a protest against investigation of the FE-UE by the House Committee on Un-American Activities, of which Velde is a member.

The union is a merger of two former CIO unions which were thrown out of the CIO on charges they were Communist-dominated.

Investigation Timed

Grant W. Oakes, secretary-treasurer of FE-UE's District 11, declared the House Committee on Un-American Activities timed its investigation to coincide with the strike in "an open and shut strike-breaking move."

Oakes said the committee issued subpoenas Thursday for several FE-UE officers and organizers.

Oakes said the committee first announced its Chicago hearings for May "shortly before the Harvester contract was due to expire." When the contract was extended to August, Oakes added, the committee postponed its hearings to August.

Nothing Accidental

"There is nothing accidental about the committee's timing," he stated.

Pickets gathered outside the struck plants Thursday morning, and in most places picketing was described as orderly and quiet.

However, at Richmond, Ind., a union official got a black eye in a scuffle on the picket line and in Louisville, Ky., several pickets were arrested on disorderly conduct charges when they refused to keep plant entrances and roads clear.

As the strike took effect, the company announced it was giving some 50,000 employees who are not FE-UE members a three-cent hourly wage increase effective Sept. 1, as a cost-of-living boost.

West Oak 4-H Club Again Wins Kiwanis Trophy

The Lincoln Kiwanis Club Trophy for the third straight year occupied the place of honor at the annual Achievement Day exhibit of the West Oak 4-H Club Thursday at Raymond.

Presented annually to the 4-H club winning the most points in Lancaster County, the cup will now remain in the permanent possession of the 28 members of the West Oak Club.

During the past winter, the West Oak Club completed ten projects, and 12 projects this summer, to win the award. The projects range from cooking and homemaking, to sewing, refinishing furniture and room decoration. Samples of the girls' cooking, sewing, clothing, complete room arrangements, were included in the Achievement Day exhibit.

In addition, the club has a trio, including Sharon Lawson, Marilyn Lawson and Sonja Ideen; and a club chorus which has won an award in the county every year except one since its organization in 1945, and has received statewide recognition.

Co-leaders of the club are Mrs. Daniel Olson and Miss Marilyn Lawson, a member of the club.

American Fails To Win The Heart Of Irish Lass; Begins Trip Home

SHANNON, Ireland (INS)—mid-Atlantic. Breda found the Pennsylvania's Frank Hayostek note and began corresponding with the Johnstown, Pa., steelworker.

He recently sold his war bonds and car to make a 15-day trip to Ireland. But at the end of the half-month counship, Breda said "no."

Frank, who now is 27, has vowed, however, that he will return again in about two years to woo the fair colleen again.

Grand Islander Is Given Continuance On Three Charges

OMAHA (AP)—David Hyslop, 22, Grand Island, survivor of two spectacular auto crashes, has been granted a week's continuance on three traffic charges in Douglas County Court.

Hyslop was arrested late Tuesday by Safety Patrolmen Fred Wahlen and R. J. Emery Jr., four miles west of the Yutan corner on Highway 92. He was charged with driving 95 miles an hour, reckless driving and improper passing Wednesday.

Hyslop, free on $200 bond, is to appear before Judge Robert Troyer next Wednesday. Authorities said he was driver of a car which struck a train on west Dodge Street in 1946 and was injured in a two-car crash near Seward in 1948. Two persons were killed in the latter accident.

Truman Says He Can't Be Demo 'Target'

Unaware Of 'Mess' In Capital

WASHINGTON (INS)—President Truman said Thursday he is the key of the 1952 Democratic campaign and therefore cannot be a "target" for criticism by Gov. Stevenson or Sen. Sparkman.

The chief executive told his news conference that the Democratic nominees must run on the record of the Truman and Roosevelt administrations.

He made the statement after newsmen reminded him that Stevenson twice has referred to a "mess in Washington" and that Sparkman has declared the administration "mishandled" the recent steel strike.

Key of Campaign
Mr. Truman was asked if he felt that the Democratic presidential and vice presidential candidates were making him a "target." He replied that is not possible because he is the key of the party campaign and therefore could not be a target on the Democratic side.

The President declared he knew nothing about any "mess." Stevenson used the word in connection with last year's tax and "influence" scandals.

Mr. Truman refused comment when asked whether he was satisfied with the way the Illinois governor and Sparkman have launched the campaign to keep the Democrats in power.

New Blood Helpful
But he emphasized that the party has to run in 1952 on the record of the Roosevelt and Truman administrations. He said that is all it can run on.

Asked to comment on Stevenson's statement that what the nation needs is a "refreshening" of what has been transpiring in Washington for 20 years, the President replied that new blood is always helpful.

DEMOCRATS

MINOCQUA, Wis. (AP)—Gov. Adlai Stevenson Thursday tagged GOP presidential nominee Dwight D. Eisenhower a "me too" candidate who appears to approve the Democratic program of the past 20 years.

Adlai Raps Ike Speech
He told reporters at his lake-side vacation place that this was what he detected in Eisenhower's speech Wednesday night at Boise, Ida.

Then the Democratic presidential nominee insisted that he was just as much a middle-of-the-road man as Eisenhower who had said that the Democrats with new names and faces were trying to lead the country down a "false path" to the left.

Referring to campaign plans, Stevenson said:

1. Present plans call for him to speak in Denver, Colo., Sept. 5 and then in Montana and Wyoming before heading into the Pacific Northwest, California and the Southwest.

2. He expects to campaign in the South but details have not yet been worked out.

3. He will discuss his views on labor-management relations and legislation in this field when he kicks off his campaign Sept. 1 in Detroit.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. (INS)—Democratic vice presidential candidate John Sparkman said Thursday night the only issue left for the Republicans to present to the people was "we can do it better."

At an informal handshaking and greeting session at Birmingham's city hall, Sparkman said he had thought the Republicans were going to bring some issues before the people, but that the "we can do it better" principal, apparently was all they had to offer.

REPUBLICANS

WASHINGTON (INS)—Sen. Ives (R-N.Y.) said Thursday he will try to "sell" Gen. Eisenhower on the workability of federal compulsory fair employment practices legislation.

Ives Urges FEPC Act
The senator reported that he has an appointment with the GOP presidential nominee in New York Aug. 27 and will try to convince Ike that compulsory FEPC legislation "is workable" as long as it is handled by competent administrators.

Ives is co-sponsor of an "equality of opportunity in employment" act introduced in the Senate last month. He maintains that the FEPC issue is "extremely important" in the election campaign.

The New Yorker said he hopes to talk to Eisenhower about civil rights and labor relations and to present, if possible, the "liberal" GOP viewpoint.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Karl Mundt of South Dakota, co-chairman of the Republican campaign speakers' bureau, said Thursday night Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower will "endure and campaign actively" for Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis.) if McCarthy asks him to do so.

Mundt said the same thing applies to Republican Sen. Kem of Missouri, Jenner of Indiana and Bricker of Ohio—although they and McCarthy have voting records apparently conflicting with Eisenhower's views on aid to Europe and some other questions.

Mundt also said that both Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio and Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York will play important roles in Eisenhower's campaign for the presidency.

"I think Gen. Eisenhower is going to adhere to the policy that where the people of any state decide that any Republican is their candidate for any office, then he as captain of the national team—is going to engage in teamwork with the whole team."

Youth, 19, Admits Two Breakins Here

A 19-year-old youth signed a two-page confession for police Wednesday night admitting that he had entered two Lincoln homes taking $63 worth of money and articles from one of them.

Capt. Orren Graves told The Star that these two entrances were the only ones on which the youth was questioned but this is "only a start." He was referring to a number of unsolved small burglaries in the south part of the city.

The lad was apprehended early Wednesday morning after a woman complained that someone was looking into her window. He was carrying a screw driver, a pair of gloves, a silk cloth, a flashlight, a wire, and a pair of skeleton keys.

Waiting For The Zero Hour

"There is a controversy in Lincoln between Jim Lawrence of The Star and 'granddaddy' of public power in Nebraska, and city officials who say rates charged by the Consumers Public Power District are discriminatory," Hyde Sweet writes in The Nebraska City News-Press.

The argument in Lincoln is not between the city and Consumers, but between the city and the Nebraska hydros (the Nebraska Public Power System).

Continuing, Mr. Sweet writes in part:

"Mr. Lawrence points out that Consumers, part of the state's huge electricity-producing 'grid', is governed by men elected by the people and forbidden by law to discriminate as to rate-making. . . Consumers has some sins to answer for but I am sure it does not violate the law in quoting and charging rates for electricity furnished to communities."

The city is purchasing electricity wholesale from the Nebraska hydros, as is Consumers, together with the Nebraska rural electrification districts. Discussion here precipitated by Director Erickson is based upon Mr. Erickson's charge that the hydros discriminate in favor of Consumers and the rural electrification districts.

Presently Lincoln's municipal plant gets approximately 40 per cent of its electric supply from the hydros under the terms of a temporary contract covering the next five months. Those months will slip by rapidly. If Mr. Erickson feels that he is being discriminated against, he should ask the city legal department to bring a friendly action to determine what rates the municipal plant should pay. We trust that he will not delay as he did for months before signing a temporary five-month contract. Then the City Hall came up with an absurd yarn that the hydros were about to turn the switch, shutting this community off from electricity. The rate issue had been gathering dust in a cubby-hole in Mr. Erickson's desk for months.

It is difficult to determine whether Mr. Erickson is more interested in conciliating his differences with the Nebraska hydros or laying the foundation for a huge program of expansion of the city light plant involving the expenditure of an estimated two million dollars.

Public power is not an issue because both the municipal plant and the hydros represent public power.

Strictly On Our Own

There have been few morsels tossed to the public more inviting to thought than the recent declaration by Gov. Adlai Stevenson relative to the concentration of power in Washington. He expressed concern over the steady drift in that direction. To curb it and to start the trend to the sovereign states and the local communities, he said, would necessitate the states' and the local communities' assuming greater responsibility for development and for the demands placed upon government itself.

That got into the hair of Sen. John Bricker of Ohio. It is not very difficult to muss up Sen. Bricker's silvery crest. He—along with Wisconsin's Joe McCarthy, Indiana's Jenner, Illinois' Everett Dirksen and one or two others of lesser prominence—are specially commissioned to take out after Gov. Stevenson upon any or all provocations and give him the works politically. Sen. Bricker as a member of the task force assigned to this job was merely speaking in the line of duty. And it would appear that he was not giving too much deliberation to what he was saying. Mr. Bricker said Gov. Stevenson was passing the buck. Uncle Sam, Bricker charged, takes so much of the tax dollar that the states cannot perform their legitimate functions.

This could easily develop into one of those kind of word battles best described as a merry-go-round. Who hit whom, or what did what. But Sen. Bricker does not have to journey beyond the borders of his own state for convincing evidence relative to the concentration of power in Washington. There are two notable flood control programs in Ohio—one bearing the name of the Miami Conservatory District, protecting the industrial city of Dayton—the other the Muskingum Valley Development involving a series of dams and a broad flood control program above the city of Marietta. They were both organized and operated under the same law—the Ohio Conservancy Act.

Miami or Dayton was built and paid for to the very last penny locally. Muskingum, undertaken 25 years later, reached down into Uncle Sam's pocket up to the elbow to haul out millions from the federal treasury.

Kurt Schumacher Finds Peace

Whether his political beliefs were pleasing or not, it was not difficult to admire the courage and relentless energy of Kurt Schumacher, who died in Bonn, Germany, with his most lofty dream unrealized.

Schumacher had driven himself mercilessly in an effort to realize his ambition of becoming chancellor of Western Germany. Wasted by his years of brutal imprisonment under the Nazi regime, his right arm and left leg gone, partly paralyzed, he nevertheless became the symbol of a strange combination of political aspirations. He was, on the one hand, the unquestioned leader of the Social Democratic party, bitterly anti-Communist, vehemently denouncing the policies pursued by the Adenauer government. On the other hand, despite his terrible sufferings at the hands of the Nazis, he was Western Germany's most articulate exponent of revived German nationalism.

He did not fit into the conventional pattern. He was not in any sense a "neutralist," the disease which is gaining strength in Germany with each passing day. He did not agree with those who said "ohne mich"—without me—the expression of cynicism which indicates moral decay. He hated the men in the Kremlin, but he had no love for the men of the West outside Germany. He was an implacable dictator within his own party, yet those who knew him best said he was a great friend of democratic political institutions.

This man stood opposed to what the allied nations are attempting to do in Germany. Yet Kurt Schumacher was the kind of political leader who commanded respect even when he could not gain agreement for his aims. In death this haunted, brittle man with a metallic character finds a peace he never knew in his long fight on earth for what he believed to be right.

Shades Of '49

The likes of the days of '49 returned the other day in Saskatchewan, where Uranium City became a modern version of the pioneer boom towns along the trails of the West. A little more than 100 years ago the lure was gold, a shining, tantalizing metal which enticed men to seek their fortune in the unsettled territory. Today it is the priceless metal for atomic energy which is sought, and the dream of finding a large deposit brings an old gleam to the eyes of prospectors, vintage 1952.

Bogged down in heavy rains, the wilderness tent city in Canada found hundreds of men staking out claims for ground in preparation for a long search. There was no violence, but it was reported that some disagreements resulted from the competition for claims. And some wary representatives of syndicates allegedly had placed men in strategic spots to give false directions to independent prospectors.

As happened in the era of the newly-opening West, most of those who "cleaned up" were not the prospectors, but the business men who pro-

Quickie Marriages

Communist Hungary, according to a news item, has streamlined the official marriage ceremony so that newlyweds can be back at their factory tasks 30 minutes after the start of the event. This step resulted from the fact that 400,000 work days were lost in 1951 by the desire for an "old bourgeois" type of honeymoon. A Communist newspaper in Hungary reports that Hungarian young couples "have welcomed the new regulations with deep gratitude."

Uh-huh.

DREW PEARSON

Stevenson-Like Debates Should Be On Radio-TV

(Editor's Note: While Drew Pearson is on brief vacation, the Washington Merry-Go-Round is being written by guest columnist.)

By BLAIR MOODY

DETROIT—The best way for the American people to get the full, unvarnished picture of the real issues of the presidential campaign, in my judgment, would be a series of debates on radio and television between Gov. Stevenson and Gen. Eisenhower.

Sen. Moody

This modern innovation would give the voters an opportunity to decide directly which candidate would provide the country with more competent leadership in this moment of history when our future is so dangerously at stake.

It would offer a universal education on the problems of our nation and the world, never before approached.

It would draw the issues between the parties on the level of fact, not smear.

It would give the people a chance to "know" their next President—his personality, his intellect, and his grasp of public affairs.

It would provide both candidates an equal crack at what doubtless would be the largest audience of all time, without forcing either to raise huge sums of money for the privilege of presenting their views to the people.

And it would knock the extra party bunk out of the campaign at the very top level.

If the famous general from Kansas is matched with the great statesman from Illinois for an hour each week, perhaps from September through October, the people will make the right decision Nov. 4, and a new, high pattern will have been set for the future functioning of our democracy.

This suggestion was advanced by the writer on People's Platform, a Columbia Broadcasting System radio discussion with Sen. Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana, on July 27, the day after the Democratic convention adjourned.

From CBS President Frank Stanton comes a letter of interest, which also cites a possible obstacle. Stanton writes:

"I am in wholehearted agreement. It is difficult to conceive of any method which would more surely contribute to the democratic processes of full and informed participation in the election by voters."

But Stanton points out that the Federal Communications Act requires an even distribution of public-service time not alone between Democratic and Republican parties, but according to present FCC interpretations, among splinter parties as well.

"While we are in full sympathy with the principle of fairness which Sec. 315 (A) is intended to vindicate," Stanton

Report On Oil Cartel Gives Startling Facts

WASHINGTON—A vice president—and even a vice presidential nominee—has some powers in spite of the tradition of the usefulness of the office. Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, who has second place on the Democratic ticket, has just given a modest nonetheless interesting demonstration that even potentially it carries some weight.

For months a great many people, including some with influence such as Sen. Thomas C. Hennings (D-Mo.), had been trying to pry loose a report on the international oil cartel that was labeled top secret. Before the Democratic convention Sen. Sparkman also wrote a letter to the White House asking that the report be released. Results: Zero.

By shortly after his nomination Sparkman got word that the controversial report prepared by the Federal Trade Commission could be made public. He promptly announced this fact through the Senate Small Business Committee of which he is chairman.

The report spells out the complete control exercised over world trade in petroleum and petroleum products by a combination of British and American companies. There is nothing new in this control. It has been exercised almost from the beginning of the era of mechanization when the flow of oil became vital to the very existence of a modern nation.

But economists and researchers for the Trade Commission put in their report more detail and documentation than the public has hitherto been given. It analyzes at length the interrelationship among the British companies, Royal Dutch/Shell, Anglo-Iranian, Iraq Petroleum, and American companies in the international field such as Standard of California, Standard of New Jersey and the Texas Company.

The report was ready for release at a moment when oil was the hottest subject in world politics. Throughout the Middle East the rights of foreign oil companies in conflict with the tide of rising nationalism threatened revolution and chaos. As the cartel report was circulated among government departments with the stamp of secret in it, many both in Defense and State were convinced it would fan the conflict.

Finally, the issue of secrecy was put up to the White House. President Truman named a three-man committee made up of Secretary of State Dean

Oil Report Released

President Truman's decision on Aug. 18 to release the Federal Trade Commission's secret report on international oil cartels was an interesting aftermath to some recent columns by Drew Pearson.

On Aug. 9, Mr. Pearson quoted excerpts from this controversial report and explained that Vice Presidential Candidate John Sparkman, Sen. Tom Hennings and others had been urging publication of the document. President Truman at that time took the position that publication would have an adverse effect on our national interest.

Two days later, on Aug. 11, Mr. Pearson gave further details from the Federal Trade Commission's voluminous report which has now been approved by the President for release late this week.

writes, "we believe its apparent frustration of so desirable a result as you suggest is the best evidence of its fatal error."

"Yet the broadcaster's license—that is, his right to stay in business—is dependent on conforming with the act. This, I believe, warrants re-examination of Sec. 315 (A) with a view toward repealing it and, perhaps, substituting some less rigid provision which would remove the roadblocks to broadcast so obviously in the public interest."

Stanton suggests action in the next Congress which would "permit radio and television to play the vital role of which they are capable."

Perhaps some change in law is in order. But when Congress meets, this campaign will be over. An informal check at FCC indicates a more immediate way might be found around the obstacle.

There are already a number of nationally televised, nationally sponsored programs which specialize in precisely this type of matching of facts, wits, and grasp of the issues. Nearly all Senators and many Congressmen have participated.

While the standard 30-minute time often runs out before the issues have been adequately clarified, a series of hour-long discussions, running over perhaps six weeks, could be conducted with complete fairness.

It would be hard to imagine that the managers of any of these programs would object to finding themselves suddenly with two such distinguished participants. A rescheduling putting two such 30-minute pieces end-to-end, to provide the full hour, would not be insuperable. It would, of course, be a windfall for the sponsors of the program, who, under this system, would pick up the check, but no larger a check than they meet weekly anyhow for less distinguished guests.

The nation has never forgotten the Lincoln-Douglas debates, though in proportion they could hear them. In the television age we all could look in. An Eisenhower-Stevenson series of radio-TV debates could be the deciding factor Nov. 4.

(Copyright, 1952, by Bell Syndicate)

Acheson, Secretary of Defense Robert Lovett and Mutual Security Administrator Averell Harriman to pass on it. Harriman was included, of course, because just a year ago he spent weeks in Iran trying to get agreement between the British oil interests and the Iranian government on a settlement of the increasingly bitter dispute there.

This top-level group turned the report over to Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, director of the Central Intelligence Agency. After reading it, Smith is said to have recommended to the committee that it would not be in the best interests of America to release the report at this time. With this recommendation they agreed that the report should be kept back.

But pressure for its release continued. And at last the Sparkman request was honored.

Those who have studied this remarkable document say that the cuts make no real difference. Left in are hitherto secret details of how the big powers in the world-wide oil empire have agreed and on occasion bitterly disagreed.

It includes excerpts of a hitherto unpublished memoir written by one of the richest and also one of the most mysterious men at the center of what is virtually in itself a super government. By virtue of his 5 per cent interest in the Iraq Petroleum Company and his other oil connections, Calouste Gulbenkian, 83-year-old Armenian now living in Portugal, has a fortune which Life magazine estimated in an article two years ago to be close to a billion dollars. The Gulbenkian memoir, taken from the files of one of the large American oil companies, reveals that he has frequently clashed with the big companies over exploitation of Middle East reserves.

Here is, of course, politics as well as oil in this remarkable story.

One evidence of that was the fact that Sen. Homer Ferguson (R-Mich.) promptly tried to get the act, alleging that the Republican 80th Congress had four years ago done an equally effective exposure which the administration ignored. But it is in terms of the politics of the world that oil and the pelf and power that go with it—that this newest report will have loud reverberations.

Heartaches, Honors At County Fair Time

By MONA B. PARKER

Headline of The Week (Sargent Leader): "Valley County Board Split On Used Bridge For Middle Loop."

If fall plowing seems a long and tedious job, The Blair Enterprise asks its readers to consider what it must have been like with the outfit found last week by Ray Therkelsen on his farm north of Blair. The tiny 8-inch, one-horse plow, which reference books indicate must be at least 75 years old, was apparently discarded a long time ago and has lain unnoticed in a weed-covered fence-row. It has the old oak beam fitted with a well-worn adjustable clevis. Newer models travel twice as fast and turn over a strip of ground nearly five times as wide.

Nothing in this transitory life seems more futile or foolish to Arch Jarrell than those little gadgets that some people like to stick in each end of an ear of corn to make its eating daintier. Corn on the cob isn't supposed to be eaten daintily, maintains The Grand Island Independent editor. In this respect it's like watermelon. It's a lousy, wholesome food which should be devoured in a lousy, wholesome manner, not as one might devour a caviar canape.

"No, it isn't pretty. But it's mighty good, and why spoil it by trying to apply etiquette to it?" mumbles Mr. Jarrell around a big mouthful from his fourth ear.

Mr. Lester Eastwood was bemoaning the fact that before she could get to the field for the family's second mess of roasting ears, the coons had been there ahead of her. They had gone down the rows in the Pawnee County field eating part of the ears right on the spot.

THE PEOPLE SPEAK

Editor's Note: Be brief. Limit letters to 150 words or less. Letters signed by a pen name, must be accompanied by writer's name and address. Letters represent only contributor's view.

If This Be Socialism

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: To Candidate Crosby and others: If our postal service is Socialism, if our public power districts and REA are Socialism, if our soil conservation in our river basins and our federal aid to disaster-stricken areas in Socialism, then I am for it, and so are many others.

Some things are too big to be done locally and too important to the whole country to let go undone.

MRS. EDNA SIMMONS

Assistance Increase

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: I have sent the following letter to Gov. Val Peterson: "Congress recently enacted an enlarged Social Security Act, effective October 1, 1952, which provides a $5 increase in monthly grants of old age assistance, aid to dependent children, and aid to the blind recipients. And if the state in question matches the said $5 increased federal payment, then the federal government will double its aid payment, making a total of $15 a month increase over present grants."

"As you know, unless the Nebraska legislature meets in special session and lifts the ceilings before October 1 on all categories of the assistance program, Nebraska assistance recipients shall be deprived of the initial $5 federal increase to which they are entitled. And if this same special session of the legislature does not appropriate sufficient funds to match the initial $5 federal increase, they shall also be deprived of the total $15 monthly increase to which they are entitled."

"This letter is therefore to be regarded as a demand that you immediately call a special session of the legislature to act upon this problem. As you know, it would be a waste of time to substitute a poll of members of the legislature in advance, as they have no incentive to sit in special session due to the fact that they receive no additional salary for same, and travel allowance only for once to and from the capitol."

"Board of Control Chairman Mrs. Harold Prince has consistently endeavored to cover up the true provisions of the new Social Security Act by omitting mention of the additional $10 monthly increase if Nebraska matches the initial $5 federal increase. She also has consistently endeavored to justify the state of Nebraska's retaining the initial $5 federal increase, instead of passing it on to the assistance recipients as the federal government intended, by citing the fact that federal ceilings always have been lower than Nebraska's. She apparently intentionally omitted the fact that under the old law, the monthly ratio was $30 federal to $25 state; and under the new law, the monthly ratio is $35 federal to $20 state."

"And every Nebraska Republican including myself should not forget for one moment that the State of Nebraska is predominantly Republican, and if the legislature fails to take appropriate action to provide this $15 monthly increase to all categories of the assistance program, then no Nebraska Republican can rightfully utter one single word of criticism of so-called Democratic corruption, because no practice can be more corrupt than stealing from the blind, the dependent children, and the aged."

stalk, cob and all. Others had been pulled off, partly gnawed and left lying on the ground. Agricultural progress is to blame for part of it, she feels. "This generation of coons is much too young to remember the days when sweet corn ears grew up on the stalk better than the low-growing hybrid corn to care about the past."

Also from Mrs. Eastwood's "Rural Rambles" was the revolutionary idea of building a home out of tin cans. Instead of eating themselves out of house and home, she says, a family could literally eat themselves into one. A couple could start out with a small basic unit and as the family increased and cans accumulated, more rooms could be added.

And Pop's dinner-time remarks might be something like this: "Sit right up to the table, kids, and eat hearty. Only three more cases of pork and beans to go and we can start building a bedroom for Junior!"

Headline of The Week No. 2 (The Friend Sentinel): "Beaver Crossing Rebekahs Here."

The Superior Express tells about two men who were jailed at Nelson after ordering six steaks, eating them and then refusing to pay. Maybe it was just that they didn't have a Cadillac or a couple of diamonds or anything pawnable with them at the time.

A Holdrege Citizen columnist was reminded of a boarding house he once frequented. The proprietress got her knives sharpened three or four times a week. When the knife sharpener asked why the knives were sharpened so often, she replied: "Well, it's cheaper than buying tender meat!"

There have been several reports of rattlesnakes seen, but Custer County had a viper in its midst that struck—and struck without the traditional warning. Luckily only one of the two fangs struck the bone.

"The ribbons will hang in some honored place where 4-H parents and members will point with pride," she said, in The York News-Times, "but only the youngster who has fed and watered, curried and washed, talked to and petted, and felt the trust in a heifer's soft nuzzling, will experience the bitterness that goes with the sweet gaining of these awards."

One mother told of her boy whose calf was a purple-ribbon winner. The night before sale day, with his calf destined like all beef cattle for market, he begged to be left alone. He trudged his lonely way out to the barn and spent several hours there. Several hours later, a tear-stained face was evidence of his farewell to his pet.

What'll It Be Next? Stevenson, Eisenhower Cigarets Sold Here

Two new brands of cigarettes are being offered to Lincolinites for talking politics in "smoke filled rooms."

The new smoke-makers are "Stevenson for President" and "I Like Ike" cigarettes.

The local wholesale firm supplying the political smoke to about 20 retail stores in Lincoln reports they are selling "hotter than a depot's stove."

The non-partisan firm received an equal amount of Stevenson and Ike cigarettes, and they say all of the retail distributors have taken both kinds.

One retailer said he would know who was going to be elected president long before the election.

Ray Lytle, operator of a tobacco and candy counter in the Federal building, is simply going to count the carton tops of each political brand "in a kind of poll."

After an hour on the counter, the pack count totaled four to one in favor of the Republican nominee for president, Lytle, who lives at 429 So. 12th, said he has no sales talk for the cigarettes.

"They just sell themselves," he said.

Building Permits Past 100 Mark For August

Permits issued for August to date for construction of new homes have passed the 100 mark.

As of Thursday, the office of the building inspector had issued 105 permits for single-unit dwellings and another five permits for duplexes. The combined cost of those units has been estimated for permit fee purposes at $698,300. As yet, the August figure is still well behind the 209 new home permits issued during April of this year. It compares favorably, however, with the 83 June and 82 July new home permits issued.

Friday, August 22, 1952 THE LINCOLN STAR 5

Hog Ban Fails To Hurt Saline County Fair

Attendance May Pass 5,000 Mark

By JOHN SWANSON
Star Staff Writer

CRETE, Neb.—One of the traditional mainstays of the Saline County Fair was missing this year, but the four-day affair is attracting as much interest and attendance as ever.

The missing feature, the hog exhibit, has always been one of the biggest on the fairgrounds, but Ernest Vlasak, secretary-treasurer of the Saline Fair, said attendance this year may surpass last year's 5,000 figure.

Thursday, entry day at the fairgrounds on Tuxedo Park near here, saw 4-H boys and girls setting up their prize exhibits in livestock barns and halls.

Old Settlers Day
Friday, Saline County's old settlers will have their annual picnic. This is expected to draw scores of the old timers for the noon picnic dinner and for an afternoon speech by Congressman Carl Curtis.

At 3 p.m. FFA members will take part in a tractor demonstration contest, competing in skill for $75 in prizes put up by Saline merchants.

High school students from five Saline County schools will display their talents Friday night in a big amateur contest on the stage of the amphitheater in Tuxedo Park. The show will be directed by William Zalman, and will offer prizes ranging from $50 to $100.

The annual "big parade on wheels" will highlight Saturday's festivities at the fair. This year it is expected to be at least a mile and a half in length and include entries from all rural schools in the county. The 4-H demonstration show will be held that afternoon at the fairgrounds, beginning at 2 p.m.

Officers of the Saline County Fair, in addition to Vlasak, are: M. R. Gifford, president; A. C. Gardner, vice president; H. C. Osterhout, Dave Cawley, Harold C. Cerny, George Feeken, Kenneth Moneyenny and George Kersenbrock.

'Gymkhana' Closes Furnas County Fair

BEAVER CITY, Neb.—(Lincoln Star Special)—Approximately 110 head of cattle were exhibited by 4-H Club members at the Furnas County Fair, said Edwin H. Franklin, fair secretary.

The last night of the County Fair, saddle clubs throughout the county presented a "gymkhana" or horse show.

Results of the 4-H contests are as follows:
Dairy heifer: Grand Champion, Rex Collins, Wilsonville. Reserve Champion, Robert Payne, Edison. Fat cattle: Reserve Champion, George Hauser, Holbrook. Reserve Champion, Bradley McCann, Edison.

More than 2,000 persons attended the opening day of the Furnas County Fair and a crowd equal to that attended the final day's activities.

Road Crashes Fatal For Two

(By the Associated Press)

Nebraska's traffic fatality toll stands at 207, following the deaths of two more in highway accidents. This compares with 196 road deaths in the state at this time last year.

The latest victims:
Dennis L. Swanson, 20, Central City.
Mrs. Elvina Nightingale, 60, Niobrara.

Swanson died Wednesday night in a train-car crash about a mile west of Central City. Sheriff Roland Gibson said Swanson's car was hurled 500 feet when it was hit at a county road crossing by a westbound Union Pacific passenger train going about 70 miles an hour.

Gibson quoted a member of the train crew as saying he saw the car moving slowly and thought it was going to stop, but it pulled into the path of the train. The car was demolished, but there was no damage to the train.

Mrs. Nightingale was a passenger in a car driven by her son, Russell, 21, when it collided with another car on the outskirts of Valley Wednesday night.

The son and his father, Ralph Nightingale, 61, also a passenger in the car, were taken to an Omaha hospital with head injuries.

Leonard Venable, 26, Omaha, driver of the other car, told Deputy Douglas County Attorney John Hanley that when a third car entered the highway from a driveway, he had jammed on his brakes. He said his car was thrown into the path of the Nightingale auto. The third car did not stop.

NPA Violation 'Not Willful' Says Watson

Case Ruling Is Expected Next Week

OMAHA (P) — R. M. Watson, president of the Cheney-Watson Lumber Co., of North Bend, Thursday told Commissioner Frederick Moreau that his company's violation of critical material regulations was not willful.

Watson agreed at the hearing that his firm had taken delivery of some 14,000 pounds of aluminum more than it was entitled to under regulations of the National Production Authority.

Reduced Allotment Asked
The NPA recommended to Commissioner Moreau, of Lawrence, Kan., that the North Bend firm's third-quarter aluminum allotment be reduced 9,000 pounds and the fourth-quarter allotment be reduced 6,000 pounds. Next year, the firm would get its entire allotment.

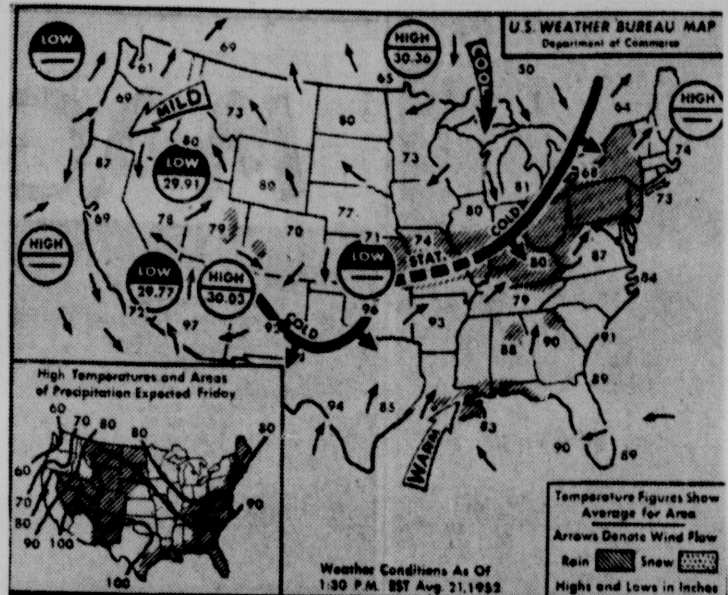

Moreau said his ruling would be made in about a week. It was the first non-compliance case heard in this area.

Union Girl Chosen Queen Of Cass Fair

WEEPING WATER, Neb. — Eighteen-year-old Phyllis Grunwald, of Union, has been chosen queen of the 1952 Cass County Fair.

She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Grunwald, and attended Peru State Teachers College for two years.

Miss Grunwald was crowned by J. Francis McDermott, king of Ak-Sar-Ben.

FAIR WEATHER—Aside from showers along the Atlantic coastal states from Maine to Florida and along the Gulf coast, generally fair weather will prevail over the nation Friday. Pleasant-But Not Hectic

HERE WE ARE at the end of another week—and just one more week to go before autumn arrives—unofficially that is. Officially the new season isn't ushered in until around about September 21, but to us, and for all practical purposes, fall is here with the beginning of school. The week-end activity is far from hectic, reviewing it in the light of the near future—but it does have some fun things on its calendar—too bad we've been asked not to mention them.

BUT WE CAN tell you about a party for which Miss Margot Hunt was hostess on Thursday evening at her home when she honored Miss Ann Palmer, daughter of Dr. Janet Palmer, who leaves in September to attend Oberlin college, Oberlin, O. Fourteen guests, all classmates of the hostess and the honoree, were invited for a movie, and then home for supper on the patio.

THE FAR side of the week-end—Monday—will bring Mr. and Mrs. Hughes McCoy of Madison, Wis., down from Omaha, where they have been visiting Mrs. McCoy's mother, Mrs. E. A. Holyoke. The three small McCoy's, however, are remaining in Omaha while their parents are the house guests of Mrs. McCoy's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. George Holyoke.

Understand that some informal affairs have been planned for the visitors during their stay in Lincoln.

SINCE THERE is the rest of today, all of tomorrow and Sunday to include in the week-end, perhaps, it would be wise to give the entire Friday-to-Monday calendar a second look—

This evening, we find, Dr. and Mrs. K. O. Broady are presiding at dinner at Colonial Cup in pre-nuptial courtesy to their daughter, Miss Karen Broady, and her fiancé, Patrick J. Madden, whose marriage will be solemnized on Sunday. The twenty-four guests will include the members of the families and the bridal party, and arriving from out of town in time for the dinner will be Mr. Madden's sister, Mrs. R. R. Holmes, Roswell, N. Mex., and Mrs. Jim Heller of Baltimore, Md., and Mr. Heller; Miss Carol Parsch of Chicago, cousin of the bride, and Miss Janice Hepperley of Denver.

ON SATURDAY, in courtesy to Miss Broady, Mrs. Heller and Mrs. Holmes will be hostesses when they entertain at luncheon at Hillcrest Club. Places will be arranged for seven.

SOMEONE TOLD us that Mr. and Mrs. Pemberton Price of Los Angeles are arriving today to spend a few days as the house guests of Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Benjamin. Mr. and Mrs. Price are stopping off in Lincoln en route home from a trip to the east coast.

HOME AGAIN are Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Goldberg who spent a several weeks holiday at Cross Lake, Minn.

AND ALSO back in town, after a vacation in Minnesota, are Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Dort.

UNDERSTAND that Miss Betty Bedell left Thursday for Santa Ana, Calif., where she has accepted a teaching position. Before beginning her duties in the Santa Ana schools, Miss Bedell will spend some time with her cousin, Hayford Bedell, in Arcadia, Calif. Miss Bedell was graduated last January from the University of Nebraska where she is a member of Sigma Kappa sorority.

THERE'S NEWS from the nursery crowd this morning—Hear that Dr. and Mrs. Frank Tanner added a daughter to their family, as of Wednesday, August 20. The young lady is residing in the Lincoln General Hospital nursery at the moment.

THEN CAME news of the arrival of a son to Mr. and Mrs. William W. Mickle on Wednesday, August 20, at St. Elizabeth Hospital. The young man's mother is the former Mary Alice Dosek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Dosek, and his paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Guy Mickle of Nebraska City.

Guest From Kentucky

Although a comparative newcomer to the city herself, Mrs. Charles Clark (right), and Mr. Clark are completely settled in their new home in Lincoln, and this week have been entertaining a house guest, Miss Mona Lee Bunnell of Louisville, Ky. Miss Bunnell, who arrived in early week, will remain here for another few days.

Pattie Andros Is Bride

Pedestal arrangements and altar bouquets of white and pink gladioli blossoms, and lighted white candles, decorated the chancel of the Church of the Holy Trinity, Episcopal, for the marriage of Miss Pattie Andros, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Andros, to John C. Feirich, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Feirich of Carbondale, Ill., which was solemnized Thursday afternoon, August 21. The Rev. William Cross, chaplain of the University Episcopal church, read the lines of the service in the presence of members of the family and a small group of friends.

Preceding the 3 o'clock ceremony, Miss Virginia Ralles sang, accompanied by Dorsey Baird, organist, who also played the wedding music.

Miss Marie Hicks of East Chicago, Ind., was the maid of honor, and bridesmaid was Miss Gretchen Feirich of Carbondale. The attendants' alike frocks of floral patterned pink organdy were fashioned with decollete, fitted bodices and full, taffeta-sashed skirts in the demi-length. They carried bouquets of pink gladioli, and wore caps of matching organdy.

The bride wore for her wedding a colonial gown of white organdy patterned in the floral motif. Long sleeves tapering to points over the hands, and a high throatline, accented the molded basque which was closed down the back with tiny, fabric buttons. Beneath the taffeta-sashed midriff, which was caught into a bustle bow, the skirt flared into fullness, and her English illusion veil was held by a cap of organdy traced with seed pearls. She carried a cascade bouquet of stephanotis.

Serving Mr. Feirich as best man was Jerry Feirich of Carbondale, Ill., and Victor Shader of Wheaton, Ill., seated the guests.

The couple left for Champaign, Ill., to reside, following the reception which was held at the home of the bride's parents. For traveling, Mrs. Feirich, a member of Alpha Xi Delta at Northwestern university, Evanston, Ill., wore a blue summer suit with white accessories. The bridegroom attends the University of Illinois at Champaign, where he is a member of Alpha Delta Phi.

ELIZABETH CAROLYN WAKEFIELD

To Be September Bride

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Nelson Wakefield of Kansas City, Mo., are this morning announcing the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth Carolyn, to Lieut. Galen Eugene Simmons, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl M. Simmons of Lincoln.

The wedding will take place on Friday, September 19, in Kansas City.

Miss Wakefield attended Wellesley college, and now is a senior at the University of Texas.

Lieut. Simmons is a graduate of the University of Nebraska where he is a member of Kappa Sigma fraternity.

Viseks Have New Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Willard Visek of Oak Ridge, Tenn., are the parents of a daughter, Diana, born on Tuesday, July 29. Mrs. Visek, an alumna of the University of Nebraska, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gould B. Flagg of Lincoln.

Mr. Visek, also a graduate of the University of Nebraska, is engaged in atomic research at Oak Ridge. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. James Visek of Ord.

LWC Trustees Hold Meeting

The regular meeting of the Lincoln Woman's club board of trustees was held Thursday afternoon at the Y.W.C.A., when the group discussed plans for the coming year.

Presiding at the session was Mrs. E. W. Rowe, chairman of the board. Mrs. Johnson G. Beam is board secretary, and treasurer is Mrs. Robin R. Reid.

Lin-Scho Wives Discuss Plans

The newly-elected and outgoing officers of the Lin-Scho Wives club met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Ludwig Gartner. Following an informal dessert supper, the group discussed plans for the club's activities for the coming year.

No Mischief In This Group

Old man mischief has his work cut out for him if he looks for any idle hands among the small-fry in the vicinity of South Thirty-fifth street—in two square blocks in the neighborhood of 2200 South Thirty-fifth street and its immediate boundaries, all of the children—those from two years to twelve, have organized into the True Blue Workers club. Mrs. Guy Drummet was the guiding light for the new organization, and was hostess to the first meeting of the group on Wednesday afternoon at her home. Each small girl and boy has duties to perform, mainly to watch over other small girls and boys, taking care of needy children, and a dozen and one things that are indeed important. The True Blue Workers have planned a unique system of discipline, too. Two mothers have been named as judges for a sort of court of law and order. Whenever any member of the group is naughty, or gets out of hand in anyway, his case goes to the judges who, with the assistance of a jury of the small fry, hear the pros and cons, and hand down the verdict—and the method of discipline.

Gathered at the home of Mrs. Drummet for the first general meeting and to really organize were:

'Russia Needs Economic Muscle To Consider War'

New Goal Will Still Lag U.S.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Russia's new five-year plan for increased production underlines the belief of some American military leaders that the Kremlin needs more economic muscle if it is to consider waging a general war.

Moscow announced its 1955 production goals and said they would be approved by the politically important Communist party Congress in October.

The plan is designed to increase industrial production by 70 per cent and to boost the output of key war materials from 43 to 85 per cent.

The goals, if realized, would still leave the known output of Soviet Russia far behind the United States in war-vital categories.

Allied Power

Top American military officers in Europe said recently that economics may be one reason why the Soviet Union has refrained from starting war, even though the Kremlin is obviously concerned over the buildup of Allied military power.

A global conflict, they say, would be won ultimately in factories and mines. The use of vast mechanized forces, particularly, depends upon industrial production and fuel.

The Soviets are believed to be particularly short of petroleum, perhaps the most vital necessity in modern war.

This deficit, American officers say, probably is an important, if not decisive, reason why the Kremlin has avoided war. The Russians, they believe, regard a global conflict as a long protracted struggle, to be won finally by economic stamina, instead of a quick knockout campaign.

From this view, the American officers say that, to conduct world warfare now, the Kremlin needs the steel, coal and industrial resources of western Europe and the oil fields of the Middle East or Asia.

Tormented 35 Years By Dandruff and Itchy Scalp

DES MOINES, Iowa—Mr. T. M. Taylor, 462 S.E. 2nd St., Des Moines, Iowa, says: "For thirty-five years I have been searching for a product that would bring relief from the torment and embarrassment caused by dandruff and itchy scalp. I tried everything I heard about, and feel sure I spent more than a thousand dollars for different things that gave me no relief. I saw the Baker's Hair Tonic ad in the newspaper, and decided to try one more thing. It brought me quick and wonderful relief from the distress I had been plagued with so long. If everybody knew the facts in my case, the torment and embarrassment caused by dandruff and itchy scalp would soon be a thing of the past. I will never be without Baker's again."

For dandruff and itchy scalp, use Baker's Hair Tonic. For clean scalp and lustrous hair, use the new, improved Baker's "Lathermist" Shampoo. Both are sold on a money-back guarantee.—Adv.

SCENE OF TORNADO DEATH—Harry Ray Pyle, 25, of Kalamazoo, Mich., was killed in the wreckage of this big house trailer, shattered by a tornado and violent rainstorm which struck the Missouri State Fairgrounds Thursday. Federal Old Age Assistance Ceiling Hike But 'Catching Up' With State Payments

Nebraska has been ahead of the federal government in the matter of old age assistance ceilings since 1949 and the recent Congressional act raising the ceilings $5 monthly means it is just now "catching up" with the state.

That was pointed out by Mrs. Harold Prince, chairman of the State Board of Control.

The Nebraska ceiling has been $55 per month since 1949 and the only effect of the Congressional act will be that the federal government will "bear a little more of the load" under the dollar-for-dollar matching program, Mrs. Prince said.

Nebraska has a "generous program," compared to states in the rank and file, she said, in addition to having one of the most generous medical programs in the United States with no ceilings in old age assistance.

Many states have a ceiling of $50 or less, she said, although some rates may go up with the change of the federal ceiling.

Miss Nellie Anderson Dies; Lincolnite's Sister

Word was received here by Mrs. C. A. Gahn, 1925 Park Ave., of the sudden death of her sister, Miss Nellie Anderson of Los Angeles, at Las Vegas, Nev.

Miss Anderson had recently returned to the U. S. from a European tour, and was enroute to her Los Angeles home. Surviving are four sisters.

Funeral services will be held at Forest Lawn in Los Angeles.

Rail Board Overrules Cab Permit Re-Hearing

The State Railway Commission overruled the motion of Robert Gillard of Omaha for a re-hearing on his application for a certificate of convenience and necessity for operating a taxicab company in Omaha.

Gillard had operated earlier this year under a certificate transferred to him from another operator and the certificate was held "non-transferable" by Nebraska Supreme Court.

Scout Executive Defends Group's Loyalty Record

Dr. Arthur A. Schuck, chief Scout executive of the Boy Scouts of America, Wednesday replied to a disclosure by Sen. Pat McCarran's Senate Subcommittee on Internal Security that Communists made efforts to infiltrate the Boy Scout in the 1930's.

Dr. Schuck said that because the group was then familiar with Communists' attempt to "smash the Boy Scouts," they "obviously . . . got nowhere."

"Also, we do not doubt their desire to confuse and destroy this typically American organization, if they could, through infiltration," he added.

"Here again, however, they have had little success."

"No man can serve the Boy Scouts of America as a leader of boys unless he has the endorsement of at least three men outstanding in his own community and the institution in which the chartered unit is operated."

"In our selection we are most vigilant in making every possible assurance that men holding such positions of leadership are highest grade American citizens."

"We have knowledge of certain attempts by Communists to secure positions of leadership either in a Scout unit, a Council, or in the professional ranks, but we believe the thoroughness of our system of analysis of each application has resulted in our refusing membership or weeding out such men."

Plea For Practical Nurses To Attend Classes Is Made

An appeal for practical nurses to attend special extension classes at Bryan Memorial Hospital, beginning Sept. 8 was made by Miss Emily Brickley of the Lincoln Practical Nurses Organization.

Stressing that practical nurses with at least two years experience were being sought for the course, Miss Brickley directed interested persons to contact Mrs. Vernita Gibson, phone 3-7574.

There is considerable need for practical nurses, both in private homes and institutions here, Miss Brickley reported.

She said experienced practical nurses, operating directly under a registered nurse or a physician, have been valuable helping in Lincoln with polio patients and persons with other afflictions.

SEE WHY LILT WAVES take up to 5 HOURS LESS TIME and LAST up to 3 TIMES LONGER!

(Two girls start at same time—3 o'clock Saturday afternoon)

A LILT WAVE

1st step

She started her Lilt at 3 o'clock. It took her only about an hour to finish the entire waving lotion step—including test curls!

First step finished—4:14 o'clock

2nd step

She used "Naturalizer" to make her wave really permanent! Her wave is now finished... Now her hair is set in pin curls for her hairdo!

LILT WAVE FINISHED—and hairdo styled too—
IN LESS THAN 2 HOURS! 4:52 o'clock

Ready for a glamorous evening!

Pin curls dry fast (but hair wound on curlers does not). So, by 6:30, her Lilt is already brushed and combed into a smart, lovely hairdo!

And best of all, her Lilt wave is so permanent—so much like Naturally Curly Hair, it will last months and months!

LILT WAVES LAST up to 3 TIMES LONGER!

A NO-NEUTRALIZER WAVE

1st step

She also started at 3 o'clock. She has wound her hair on curlers and applied waving lotion, according to directions; rinsed with water (for used towel to remove excess lotion).

First step finished—4:00 o'clock

2nd step

(which you may not know about) She is now starting to WAIT 6 HOURS, with her hair on curlers. (With No-Neutralizer products, you need slow drying on curlers.)

STILL WAITING! She has 6 more HOURS to wait! She's getting worried, because she has a date at seven!

2 HOURS GONE—5 MORE TO GO

NO DATE FOR HER TONIGHT! She still has HOURS to WAIT! Her 6 hours of waiting won't be up until 10 o'clock!

10 O'CLOCK—SECOND STEP FINISHED...

7 hours after she started! And LOOK at that kinky, frizzy hair—because it dried on the curlers! Now she has to re-set her hair and set it in pin curls! POOR GIRL!

But what she still does NOT know is—
HER WAVE IS ONLY SEMI-PERMANENT!
Won't last nearly as long as a Lilt.

NOW—

gives longest-lasting wave possible today!

Estate's Age-Aid Liability Questioned

Assistant Lancaster County Attorney Dale Fahrbruch has asked an attorney general's opinion on whether a county can legally file a claim against the estate of a deceased person to pay for old age assistance paid to a parent.

The case arose, he said, when a woman who claimed she was not able to support her father died, leaving an estate valued at least $40,000. The father died about two years ago. The county had paid him about $4,400 in assistance.

The law says that a child who is able to do so is legally obligated to support his parents. Here, a claim has never been filed against the estate of a child.

The question to which Fahrbruch is seeking an answer is whether a statute providing that recovery of old age assistance money must be made within one year of the recipient's death is effective. Another statute provides that when fraud is present, the money may be collected within four years of the payments.

The woman left her father $75 a month for life in her will, drawn five days before his death. She left more than $15,000 in individual bequests.

The decision of the attorney general may have considerable bearing on a hearing of claims in the case, which will be held in several weeks.

Most Lancaster County Residents Pay Their Taxes

Not many Lancaster County taxpayers neglect to pay their taxes.

That is the indication in figures released by County Treasurer C. E. Berg. They show that 98.67 per cent of the 1950 taxes have now been paid. The percentage of taxes paid gradually increases over the years. For instance, 99.76 per cent of the 1944 taxes are paid.

No figures were available for last year, Berg said, because payment does not become delinquent until Sept. 1 of this year. The figures indicate, however, that very few taxpayers get away without paying their taxes.

Berg said that occasionally taxes are paid for years previous. He said that taxes as far back as 1870 have been paid in recent years. Each year, the percentage of taxes paid increases, because of this fact.

Taxpayers will begin receiving notices of personal and automobile taxes beginning Nov. 1. About 35,000 auto notices and 43,000 personal tax notices will be sent out. No notices will be sent out of real estate taxes, since taxpayers are expected to pay those without being notified.

Last year, the average real estate tax was about $28.50, and the average personal tax was about $18.90.

Rev. Johnson Named New Pastor Here

Rev. Gaylord Johnson, Marion, Ind., has been appointed pastor of the Wesleyan Methodist Church at 3320 O.

The present pastor, Rev. M. H. Budensiek will be on leave of absence for further study at Marion, Ind. The change is expected to take place next week.

Rev. Budensiek, has been vice president of the Nebraska Conference of the Wesleyan Methodist Church of America.

Another Lincolnite, D. H. Rasmussen, of 2841 No. 45th, was re-elected secretary at the Conference's annual meeting at Ansley, where the appointment was announced.

Deadline For Base Commercial Change Moved To Mid-'53

Airlines, city and Chamber of Commerce officials discussed the proposed new Airport terminal with the news in mind that commercial activities could continue operations under present conditions until July 1, 1953.

City Councilman Chauncey W. D. Kinsey, chairman of the city's Air Base Reactivation committee, told the group the Air Force has announced the new July 1 date. The Air Force had previously set Dec. 15, 1952 as the final date for commercial occupancy of the existing terminal building.

In discussing the new structure, it was considered possible that a roof walkway may be installed for the convenience of the public in watching takeoffs and landings. Plans for the building are being drawn up by Architect Selmer A. Solheim. The building is expected to cost around $150,000.

The structure will be brick with a stone trim. The building will be air conditioned.

Airlines represented at the meeting were United and Braniff.

School Will Open Sept. 3 As Planned

Doctors Recommend No Change For Polio

Following a doctor's recommendation that school open on schedule, polio or no, Supt. Steven Watkins of the Lincoln public schools said classes will start Sept. 3 as planned.

The Lancaster County Medical Society's advisory committee to the Lincoln city schools made the recommendation in response to an inquiry from school officials, occasioned by the high incidence of polio.

"We have given this question studied consideration," Dr. Harold S. Morgan, Society president said, "and find ourselves in complete agreement with a policy statement of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, on the general subject, to the effect that schools should not be closed during an outbreak of poliomyelitis nor their opening delayed."

At the conference which established the Foundation's policy, he continued, "much evidence was presented to show that the closing of schools, or the delay of their opening, has not affected the course of outbreaks of poliomyelitis."

"Moreover, reports presented indicated that such action has often incited panic on the part of the public."

"Our committee is of the opinion that there is probably less danger of children of school age contracting polio in the regulated routine of school attendance, in well-ventilated, hygienic surroundings, than in many of the experiences developing out of the usual vacation season activities."

Law Has Repeat Call On 'Little' Family Trouble

The sheriff's office was called out to quiet a "little" family trouble, but on arrival found that a 15-year-old boy had hit his step-father with a car jack, causing a three-inch gash in his head.

The step-father was taken to the hospital where three stitches were taken in his head. They said the trouble arose in a dispute over who should drive the family car.

After promising to remain on good behavior, the boy and his step-father were released. Five hours later, the office was called out again, after receiving reports that the step-father was beating his wife. He was taken to jail on charges of disturbing the peace.

The deputies had no more family trouble after that.

September Meetings Set By Legislative Groups

Meetings in early September have been scheduled by two legislative committees to consider reports they will make to the Nebraska Legislature.

The Public Assistance committee will meet with its chairman, Sen. Lefty Williams of Kearney at 9:30 a.m. Sept. 2 in the Legislative Council office.

Sen. Bob McNutt of Lincoln heads the committee on school Lands and Funds which will meet at 9:30 a.m. Sept. 6.

BAERING DOWN ON THE NEWS By Arthur 'Bugs' Boer

It's too bad things don't work like we figure them out on tablecloths. Truman had a lot of relatives in the south, but they aren't kissing cousins.

Stevenson called on Harry at the White House just to get the feel of the place. If Eisenhower wins he will have to take the oath of office on the blueprints.

QUIRKS

RALEIGH, N. C.—The official charge was driving without a license, but Robert L. Williams of Raleigh almost was driving without a car.

When police stopped his 1941 vehicle for the license checkup, a headlight fell off. Then the trunk lid fell off, and when a wrecker tried to haul the car away, the front bumper snapped off.

Williams paid a $25 fine and walked home.

MONTREAL—Thieves with ladders and tools calmly detached a large neon sign valued at $1,500 and drove away with it, cafe owner Jess Kushner complained to police. Police said the job must have taken two hours—in broad daylight on a busy street.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE

Here's How To Work It

One letter simply stands for another. In this example A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's etc. Single letters, apostrophes, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

Air Reservist 'Cruise' To Start

MARINE 'BOOTS' PROMOTED—Shown receiving their Plc. warrants at ceremonies ending 30 days of 'boot' training for new members of Marine Fighter Squadron VMF-113 are: Plc. Lawrence H. Kelley, 724 No. 30th (center) and Plc. William H. Minchow, Waverly (right). They received the warrants from Maj. Richard T. Smith of Primghar, Ia. (Official Photograph U.S. Marine Corps.)

The annual 15-day cruise of Marine Reserve Fighter Squadron VMF-113 opens Friday at the Lincoln Naval Air Station, following a parade and inspection which climaxed a 30-day "boot" camp.

In the coming two weeks the reservists will have an opportunity to operate the squadron on their own—care for the planes, fly them, and work out their own problems.

The cruise puts to a practical test what the men have been learning over the past year.

Fighter planes will fly to Bemidji, Minn., for bombing, strafing and rocket practice.

At ceremonies Thursday Pfc. Boyd E. Thompson, 4942 Adams, was named "most improved man" following a parade and inspection which climaxed a 30-day "boot" camp.

Following the parade, the unit was inspected by Capt. Harold Murray of the Naval Air Station.

Schumacher Death To Bring Harmony In West Germany

WASHINGTON (INS)—Diplomatic officials in Washington Thursday foresaw a possibility that the death of German Socialist leader Kurt Schumacher may mean a shift to closer integration of parties in the West German federation.

State Department spokesman Michael McDermott said Schumacher "stood always for democracy." John J. McCloy, former U. S. high commissioner for Germany, said he was "deeply distressed" to learn of "this great German's passing."

Although Dr. Schumacher was highly respected by American officials for his fight against Nazism and Communism, he also battled the rearmament of Germany and her entrance in the European defense community.

7 More Polio Cases Up City Total To 68

Seven new Lincoln polio cases brought the city total to 68 Thursday, with 96 cases reported in the county for the year.

Bob Frank, son of Mr. and Mrs. Emil Frank of 1737 Otee is in good condition at his home.
